 "Walking in the door makes me really, truly happy," says Stacey. "Our home? It gives you a hug. I love walking into that bold wash of color... I'm the person that takes in all that eye candy."

COLOR THEORY

"Color has a shelf life around here," jokes Stacey, who changes the color of her walls with regularity. "My Jamaican roots influence everything I do... Color especially is innate to me. I've always known it in my environment."

MANTEL STATEMENT, MADE
For a cool-as-ever curation of artwork, Stacey looks to layer pieces with organic shapes and movement.

ROOM TO GROW

"I grew up between my grandmother's home in the country and Kingston, both of which included plants, even if on a balcony. They have such healing qualities," says Stacey.
